GREETINGS

This Information Booklet comes to you with the compliments and best wishes of the Chatham Chamber of Commerce. The accommodation, retail, and service folks listed in the Booklet are all members of the Chamber, anxious to make your visit to our town a pleasant one. And if you do not find the answer to your question in these pages, the Information Booth listed below will undoubtedly provide it.

Chatham is often called a quaint town and a bit old-fashioned. Well, it may be old-fashioned, but please drive slowly down our narrow streets, and watch for pedestrians on the green cross-walks; and pedestrians, please cross only on the walks. The beaches are our pride and joy and we have the quaint idea they should be litter-free. Please join with us in this.

To Our Many Visitors:

Chatham, one of the older townships of Cape Cod, was settled in 1656 by a handful of Pilgrims, whose surnames still dominate the town's census list now comprising approximately 5400 souls. The town was incorporated in 1712. Originally a farming community, its inhabitants found deep sea fishing more lucrative, and today small boat deep sea fishing is an important source of the town's revenue. Covering an area of approximately twenty-five square miles, it is a happy combination of past and present—old-fashioned and picturesque, yet affording the best in modern facilities.

The town operates under the town meeting form of government. The executive officers are a board of three Selectmen. Once a year the citizens meet to discuss articles in a Town Warrant and pass or reject them. All funds spent by the Town are voted at this meeting.

The citizens of Chatham enjoy the special benefits of zoning and planning.

Cool summers, beautiful, warm Indian summers and relatively mild winters make Chatham a comfortable place in which to live year round. Many of us have chosen to either buy an old Cape Cod house or build a new one. We live a leisurely and pleasant life and we invite you to join us. You will live happily and longer.

THE WEATHER IN CHATHAM

SUMMER: Chatham lies far out at sea on the "elbow" of the Cape, in Latitude 41-40-18 North and Longitude 67-57-57 West. We are fortunate in having navigable waters on almost three sides, and as a result the average summer temperature is close to 70 degrees. We do have fogs but, rarely cold in summer, they are a boon to our gardens and usually yield to the sun by noon. They are just another "conversation piece".

AUTUMN: This is one of our finest seasons, growing more popular each year. The water is never bluer than in October, the air is bracing and dry, the scenery at its best with the sharpest colors of the year. Bathing in September and early October is not too cold for some hardy folks.

WINTER: Our average winter temperature is about ten degrees warmer than on the mainland. We do get an occasional fall of snow, but most New England storms pass us by or just dust the landscape with the white stuff. We who live here in the winter find our paved roads fully plowed and sanded.

SPRING: March to May is just spring and we expect the thermometer to read in the upper thirties to the low fifties most of the time. But when June comes, it "Busts Out All Over". The waters of Pleasant Bay sparkle and soon our famous roses and early flowers are in bloom everywhere.

On November 16, 1970 the National Weather Service opened an observatory on Morris Island to provide surface and upper air data to the National Forecast Centers. While the new observatory will not be able to provide public service to the area it will provide local data to the Forecast Centers thereby improving the accuracy of forecasts for this area. Weather Surveillance radar is to be installed in 1971.

CHATHAM AIRPORT

The Chatham Municipal Airport, located on George Ryder Road, just northwest of Chatham Center, welcomed over 9000 airborne travellers to Chatham in 1971. The airport's proximity to beaches, recreation areas and resort facilities make it and the seaplane base a New England attraction to all aviation enthusiasts and air commuters. Communication (Unicom) facilities are available during daylight hours. Beacon and runway lights are in operation all night. Connecting air taxi service to air lines is available. Special service requirements require contact with the operator or the Airport Manager, phone 945-9000. Single engine land planes available for rental, instruction, sight-seeing and charter.

AMBULANCE

In emergency call the Fire Dept. for use of the modern and fully-equipped ambulance owned by the Town of Chatham.

GOLF

CHATHAM BARS INN—Shore Road, Chatham. Public nine hole course.

THE FISH PIER

The Chatham Fish Pier at the corner of Shore Road and Barcliff Avenue on Aunt Lydias Cove, is a constant source of interest to our summer visitors. The members of the fishing fleet make their run each suitable day to the fishing grounds from 10 to 30 miles off Chatham. Their catch consists of haddock, cod, flounder, pollock and halibut. The fresh one-day fish is placed in ice and transported in refrigerator trucks to the New York market, reaching there less than 24 hours from the time it is taken from the ocean. The boats start returning to their pier about noon, depending upon the tide. You may watch from the visitors' balcony.

SPORT FISHING

The sport of kings is sport for everyone from 6 to 70. For the boys and girls there are flounder, and the experts match their skill against the striped bass, bluefish, and tuna. The waters of Cape Cod off Chatham offer some of the best striped bass fishing in the world. No permit required.

There is excellent fishing in many of the fresh water ponds near Chatham. You may purchase a fresh water fishing license from the Town Clerk in the Town Office Bldg. Under special permit obtainable at the Town Office, non-resident shell fishing is provided for in an area off Muddy Creek in Pleasant Bay (off Orleans Road).

OLD ATWOOD HOUSE

The Old Atwood House on Stage Harbor Road is owned by the Chatham Historical Society. This, one of the oldest houses in Chatham, went up in the days (1752) when the men who engineered the job and the neighbors who foregathered to give them a lift at the "raising" were all subjects of His Majesty, King George the Third of England. The house contains more than 2000 exhibits and is open Mon.-Wed.-Fri., 2 to 5 p.m., mid-June to mid-Sept., except holidays. Admission: Adults 50 cents, Children 25 cents.

BAND CONCERTS

Every Friday evening during July and August all bands on the Cape lead to the band concert in Kate Gould Park on Main Street in Chatham. As many as five thousand people attend these concerts and it will be one of the highlights of your summer in Chatham. There will be musical numbers by the band, folk dances for the children, dance numbers for grownups and community singing for everyone.

Members of the colorfully uniformed forty piece band live in Chatham and the surrounding towns and are joined by visiting musicians during the summer. Each Monday evening during the winter the men meet for rehearsal. Funds for the maintenance of the band are voted at town meeting. The bandsmen are not paid and the concerts are their contribution to the summer life of Chatham. Do not miss these concerts. They are a lot of fun.

Our summer evenings may be cool so come prepared with your folding chair and blankets. If you arrive early, you may park in the area near the Town Office only a short block from the park.

THE RAILROAD MUSEUM

Now in its thirteenth season, this museum continues to grow in popularity. It is located in the old Chatham Railroad Company station on Depot Road and with plenty of parking space at the door.

The building is now 86 years old and on the original site. It served the Town for over fifty years from 1387 to 1937. In 1951, Mrs. Jacob Cox of Cleveland, Ohio and Chatham purchased the structure and land as a gift to our Town. It was restored as a "country depot" and a Museum in 1960.

During 1973, it will be open, free, from 2 to 5 P.M. Monday through Friday from June 25th to September 7th inclusive, and manned by an experienced group of volunteers, all residents of the Town. A special showing will be announced at the Town Information Booth on Main Street. Over 75,000 visitors since first season.

It grows in size each year. The exhibits, starting with a relic of the first commercial railroad in U.S., in 1826, include hundreds of historical significance in the railroad field, plus models and objects which never fail to interest the visitors.

The 63 year old caboose of olden days, the gift of the New York Central System will again feature new attractions. Young and old enjoy the trip through this "home on wheels" of the railroad train crews.

LIBRARY

One of the finest library buildings on the Cape houses the Eldredge Public Library, whose morning, afternoon, and evening sessions, six days a week in the summer, make it easily available. Summer visitors may take out cards, and will find an excellent selection of modern literature, local historical material and a wide spread of periodicals serving their needs.

The South Chatham Public Library, Main Street, South Chatham, is open Tues. & Fri., 1—4 during July and August, Friday only, other months.

PARKS

Near the center of town is Kate Gould Park. Its carefully kept lawns and gardens add much to the attractiveness of our town. It is here on Friday evenings that thousands of people frequently gather for the concert by Chatham Band.

On Cross Street is Chase Park at the head of which is located the old grist mill. The new bowling green is in this park and there are picnic tables and a new comfort station.

These parks as well as Harding's and Oyster Pond Beaches are under the Supervision of the Park Commission.

"DOWN TO THE LIGHTS"

You will find few spots on the entire East Coast of North America that can equal the view at "The Light". Drive down Main Street to the lighthouse and park for a spell. You will meet many of your friends. You will see many cars from nearly every State as you gaze over the majestic Atlantic, or southward in the direction of the wreck of the tanker "Pendleton". For a close-up view try the public telescopes. Back of you stands the lone survivor of the once twin-lights, which does valiant service for those at sea. Nearby is the Coast Guard Station and the famous "Larc" poised and ready to answer so many emergencies involving distressed mariners, fishermen or summer folks with problems on the water.

CHATHAM'S OLD GRIST MILL

Built in 1797 by Colonel Benjamin Godfrey, this Grist mill grinds corn by the use of wind, only. At its location, off Shattuck Place, a velocity of at least twenty miles per hour is needed for its operation. If wind increases to more than twenty-five miles per hour, the miller is wise to reef sail or prepare to stop its turning by applying the brake. The danger of accidents is otherwise great.

The mill was a gift to the Town of Chatham by Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Crocker and was moved from its original location on Mill Hill off Stage Harbor Road near Bridge Street in 1956 and opened to the public in 1957.

Each season, during July and August, the mill is open daily except Sundays. Occasionally, during these months, corn is ground here exactly as it was in 1797.

Donations help to keep this mill in operation and interested visitors are welcome.

This mill is also under the supervision of the Park Comm.

BIRDS

Chatham is a veritable Mecca for bird enthusiasts.

In Autumn Cape Cod, and the Monomoy-Chatham Region in particular, is a genuine trap for interesting birds of numerous species. Because of its temperate climate many birds remain through the winter when most of their tribe have winged south.

July, August and September, the vacation months, see the shore bird migration at its height. Chatham, with Monomoy Island, affords unexcelled opportunity for observing many species, both rare and common. Practically every species of water or shore bird recorded from New England has been seen at some time in this region.

The Monomoy National Wildlife Refuge is a very important link in the chain of migratory waterfowl refuges along the Atlantic Flyway extending from Canada to Florida and the Gulf. Access is by short boat trip from Chatham and boat liveries are available. The Refuge provides nesting, feeding and resting grounds for waterfowl, shorebirds, land birds, and oceanic birds comprising a known 309 species. This is one of the most famous and productive ornithological points on the entire Atlantic seaboard.

By act of Congress, Monomoy Island has been designated a Wilderness Area, and the motorized tours conducted by the Audubon Society have been discontinued.

CONSERVATION FOUNDATION

The delightful physical characteristics of Chatham, such as the beaches, marsh and wetlands and meadows, have long been known to our residents and summer visitors.

Preservation in their natural state is a benefit to our economy, our fisheries, wildlife and flora, a fact now recognized to a greater extent in the past few years by Federal, State and Local authorities. Chatham is fortunate in having in addition to the Town Conservation Commission, a privately operated organization in the Chatham Conservation Foundation, Inc., dedicated to the preservation of these valued areas. The Foundation, chartered in 1962, is in the hands of five year-round residents, as Trustees and Officers and without salary.

Many gifts of wetlands and marshlands have been donated to this organization and others obtained by purchase. Its aims recognized not only the importance of preserving certain areas, but likewise the necessity for the practical use of others.

A broad summer educational program of field trips for Chatham youngsters, now in its fourth year, has been enlarged to include a similar winter program in cooperation with the local school authorities. Trained instructors and guides are provided by the Foundation.

A highlight of the Foundation's work in the field of education is their second publication, "A Beachcomber's Botany", 158 pages with 113 illustrations by Marcia Gaylord Norman, and text by Loren C. Petry, Professor Emeritus, Cornell University. It is a valuable guide to the interesting plant life in the marshes, along the shore and the upland. Copies are available at a nominal cost directly from the Foundation or at several book stores and gift shops.

"DOWN TO THE LIGHTS"

We know of only one spot like this on the East Coast of the Continent, the grounds in front of the Chateau Frontenac in Quebec. Drive down the Shore Road to the lighthouse and Coast Guard station and park for awhile. Every one you know will join you if you wait long enough. You'll see cars from every state, and you'll see on the horizon the wreck, the tanker Pendleton. Some say she is still filled with oil. Behind you, as you look through the public telescopes, is the lone survivor of the once twin lights. It still does valiant service as does the fog horn, day or night in the forty some periods of white blanket that comes in from Nantucket Sound. And you can try to read the signal flags on the mast. Maybe the "Larc" will be setting out for a land and water cruise in aid of distressed mariners, or summer visitors whose motors have conked out.

FISH PIER

The Chatham Fish Pier at the corner of Shore Road and Bar Cliff Avenue on Aunt Lydia's Cove is a constant source of interest to our summer visitors. The members of the fishing fleet make their run each suitable day to the fishing grounds from 10 to 30 miles off Chatham. Their catch consists of haddock, cod, flounders, pollock and halibut. The fresh, one day fish is packed in ice and transported in refrigerator trucks to the New York market reaching there less than 24 hours from the time it is taken from the ocean. The boats start returning to the pier about two o'clock and visitors are welcome. The pier and buildings were built by the Town in 1946.

SEA FOOD

Lobsters, quahogs, oysters, flounders, cod and haddock. We grow our own in the waters around Chatham; and we bring them into you fresh every day in season. We are fishermen and oyster farmers by profession, many of us, when we are not going after the famous little Cape Cod scallops in the late fall. Oyster farmers by the way are just that; they plant the seedlings in allotted waters and harvest the crop with long rakes from rafts or floats.

JUST IN CASE

We don't expect our summer visitors to get sick, but sometimes they fool us. Well trained and competent physicians and a public health nurse are available in our community; and should you need hospitalization, our town ambulance with its trained first aid crew will take you to the Cape Cod Hospital in Hyannis, 19 miles away, without charge.

BATHING

Excellent bathing is available almost anywhere around the Chatham Shores; but the two popular beaches are Harding's Beach in West Chatham and the "Children's Beach" on the Oyster Pond. Both are manned with life guards in the season and instruction in swimming for children is given at the latter beach.

There is also bathing in some of the fresh water ponds.

RAILROAD MUSEUM

This museum is housed in the passenger station of the former Chatham Railroad Company, and located on Depot Road with ample parking space.

The building, now 86 years old, is on the original site and was in actual use for a period of fifty years, November 1887 to July 1937.

It houses several thousand models, documents, photographs and objects, many over 100 years old. Included is a 63 year old caboose.

Open Monday through Friday, 2-5 P.M., June 25 to Sept. 7.

Scanning and the Fire-Police Headquarters on Depot Road.

Our new High School on Crowell Road tells the story of our latest progress in educational offerings. The Intermediate School on Main Street, formerly used as our Senior High School, is occupied by our Junior High School students and the upper Elementary Grades.

LIBRARY

One of the finest library buildings on the Cape houses the Eldredge Public Library, whose morning, afternoon and evening sessions six days a week in the summer make it easily available. Summer visitors may take out cards, and will find an excellent selection of modern literature, local historical material and a wide spread of periodicals serving their needs.

TENNIS & GOLF

Public tennis courts are conveniently located on Depot Road and also at the Chatham High School on Crowell Road.

And try the tricky little public nine-hole golf course of the Chatham Bars Inn in the center of town. The Inn also has two public tennis courts and instruction is available.

PRESENTED BY THE TOWN OF CHATHAM MASSACHUSETTS

INFORMATION CENTER

If there are not enough answers in this too brief sketch of Chatham, the attendants at the Information Booth next to the Town Building on Main Street can supply them. The Booth and its service is provided by the Town and is operated by the Chatham Chamber of Commerce.

FISHING

If you do your fishing strictly on foot try the "fishin' bridge" on Bridge Street, where the Mill Pond empties into the harbor. We'll guarantee you plenty of crabs, a few small flounders, an eel or two and an occasional blue. No extra charge for dog fish.

If you want to try for larger flounders and other edible varieties you can rent a boat at many points, notably Ryders Cove, the fishing bridge, Stage Harbor, or at Andrew Hardings Lane.

You may cast for striped bass at North Beach or you may charter a boat at the Fish Pier if you wish to go for bass, blues and tuna. The waters off Chatham offer some of the best striped bass fishing in the world.

If you want rainbows try wading the shores of Schoolhouse Pond and Goose Pond. But first get a fresh water license from the Town Clerk, and wear it on your hat or coat. We have a good game warden in these here parts.

LAWN BOWLING

At Chase Park near the Old Wind Mill are the new lawn bowling rinks. Use of the rinks is free and there is a lawn bowling club if you wish to join.

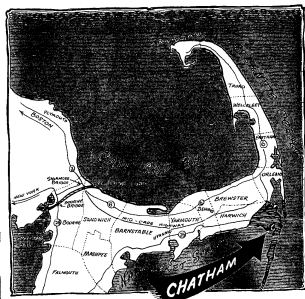

WHERE IS CHATHAM?

Chatham is on the elbow of Cape Cod, which shakes its fist at the Atlantic in the vicinity of Provincetown. It is a tattered elbow, with a streamer of sand, (Monomoy Island) trailing off several miles toward the island of Nantucket, and other tatters fringing its edge, such as Cackle Cove, Stage Harbor, Pleasant Bay and Ryder's Cove which add dozens of miles of beaches and headlands to its coast line. Chatham is roughly mid-way between the Canal and Provincetown, a journey of some 36 miles in either direction.

HOW TO GET THERE

Cross the canal on the Sagamore Bridge, where U.S. 6 and Mass. 3 join. Follow U.S. 6, which here becomes the limited access "Mid-Cape Highway" to Rte. 137. Take Rte. 137 to its end where it joins Rte. 28. Take Rte. 28 to your left and you will be in the center of Chatham in three miles. If you are heading for South Chatham, take Rte. 28 to the right. South Chatham is less than a mile.

BAND CONCERTS

Summer community life in Chatham is featured by the regular Friday night concerts by the Chatham Band in Kate Gould Park just east of the Wayside Inn. The natural amphitheater of this park makes it easy to accommodate the up to 5000 people who come here to hear the band and watch the children and the not-so-young dance on the green. But bring a blanket or a folding chair, and some heavier wraps. Chatham evenings are never hot.

ORGANIZED SPORT

Little League and Pony League Baseball and Town Team games in the season are regular attractions on the athletic field behind the high school. Sailing races under the auspices of the local yacht clubs and the Fourth of July Committee, together with motor boat races and other water sports on the Fourth give an incentive to many of the younger generation.

TOWN GOVERNMENT

A board of three selectmen, together with other elected town officers and committees are responsible for operation of the town government. Their offices are in the Town Building on Main Street at the corner of Cross Street. Police and Fire headquarters are on Depot Road.

Authority for the acts of these officials stems from state laws and from acts of the citizens expressed at the annual and special town meetings.

To give non-voting taxpayers a chance to voice their sentiments about town government, an unofficial "Town Meeting" is scheduled each summer, in which any resident may participate. Opinions of this meeting are presented to town officials and committees and may form the basis for action at any regular town meeting. This meeting is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

SCHOOLS

Comparing favorably with schools in other towns of similar size in Massachusetts, Chatham Schools face a healthy future. Our Elementary School, only a few years old, is located adjacent to the Community

THEATRES

The Monomoy Theatre, in Chatham, operated by Ohio University as a summer theatre, is one of the Cape's well known playhouses. Eight outstanding plays are presented with performances Wednesday through Saturday. You are in for some real theatrical treats. If your dish is movies, we have them too at the Chatham Theatre.

AUCTIONS

From Atlantic City to Los Angeles the typically American attraction of auctions is in full swing in the summer. Chatham won't let you down either. Almost every week there is an auction or a sale going on in a store, a church or in Kate Gould Park in the center of town. Each year the Chatham Chamber of Commerce sponsors a four-day Antiques Show in the Intermediate School in August. Dealers from all over the East exhibit rare furniture and unusual art objects.

FESTIVAL OF THE ARTS

Mid-August brings a Festival of the Arts to Chase Park on Cross Street. Surrounding the Windmill, one hundred Artists and Craftsmen exhibit their works for sale.

Included in the four day Festival are the performing arts, the Chatham Chorale, Drama groups, music and puppet shows. The goal of the Festival is to raise funds for a permanent Art Workshop in Chatham.

The Festival will run four days: August 16, 17, 18, and 19.

THE OLD ATWOOD HOUSE

Open Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons from 2 to 5 is the Atwood House Museum on Stage Harbor Road, the home of the Chatham Historical Society. This "oldest house" is unspoiled by any re-vamping, and its contents reveal the life of our pioneer ancestors in their interesting simplicity. On the grounds is a stone commemorating Squanto, the great Indian friend of the Plymouth Colony, who is buried on the Chatham shore "somewhere within gunshot" of the Museum.

WIND MILL

The Old Wind Mill which has been moved to its new site on west shore of the Mill Pond in Chase Park, is grinding out meal which you can buy. Built in 1797 by Benjamin Godfrey, the Mill was given to the town by its then owner, Mr. Stuart Crocker. The town appropriated funds for its restoration and removal to the new site, which can be reached by a lane off Cross Street. Of one thing we are sure, Chatham will provide free of charge enough wind to turn thousands of wind mill arms.

CHURCHES

Congregational, United Methodist, Christian Science, Episcopal and Roman Catholic Churches hold regular Sunday services. Other denominational services are available in nearby towns.

Points of Interest in Chatham

1 Nauset Beach—"Wonder Strands" of the Norsemen, 986 A.D.)

2 Monksmy Island—"Cape Maitland" of the early explorers, 1602. The approximate point at which the Pilgrims turned back to Plymouth (November, 1620).

3 Chatham Light House, one of the earliest aids to Mariners, is nearly in the same latitude as Rome, Italy, distance East about 4200 miles. Also Crescent City, Cal. distance about 2000 miles. West. Nearly longitude of Brunswick, Me. about 155 miles North, and Santo Domingo about 1600 miles South. Pilgrim Monument, Provincetown bears NNW about 20 miles and the State House, Boston NW 74.5 miles.

4 Mack Monument—memorial to William Mack, his captain and crew of the barge "Walden", and the seven men of Monksmy Life Saving Station who were drowned while attempting to rescue them (1902). As a result of this disaster, Point Rip Life Saving Station was established at the tip of Monksmy Point.

5 Burial ground of the unknown dead whose bodies have been washed ashore at Chatham. Between Nauset and Nantuxet have occurred one-half of the total known wrecks on the whole Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico Coasts of the United States. In the twenty years, 1887 to 1907, enough vessels were lost between Provincetown and Monksmy Point to form a solid bulwark along the entire coast between these points.

6 Stage Harbor—called Stage Harbor from the presence here of fishing stages for curing fish—called, Port "Fortune" by Samuel de Champlain who was the first white man to land on these shores. He anchored in Stage Harbor Oct. 1606, where he had a fight with the Indians. He named the place Port Fortune.

7 Scene of Champlain's "encounter with the Savages"—Here was shed the first blood in all New England in conflict between Europeans and Indians.

8 Watch Hill, fortified in 1612.

9 "Scouters"—anchorage of Gonson (1602) who sailed in through entrance then at about present location of former Old Harbor Coast Guard Station (11).

10 Former Old Harbor Coast Guard Station, just north of this was wrecked the "Sparrow Hawk" (1626) (now restored in Plymouth Memorial Hall at Plymouth, Massachusetts). At this point in December 1606 was lost the three-masted Schooner "Calvin B. Orcutt" with all hands, the only wreck on Chatham shores within the memory of man where the men of the shore knowing the wreck was there, were unable to recover the bodies either dead or alive. As a result, Old Harbor Life Saving Station was built in 1897.

11 Old Grist Mill—Built by Colonel Benjamin Godfrey prior to 1797. Chase Pl. & Bowling Green.

12 Old Atwood Homestead—Oldest house in Chatham, (built about 1783) now owned and occupied by Chatham Historical Society.

13 Pine Tree.

14 Green Hill—Famous "Western Ocean" landfall. To hold the sand from blowing over and burying the village, brush grass and then pines were planted in 1821. Earliest known experiment in reforestation in America. Used as U. S. Army Radar Station during World War II.

15 Old Cemetery—Center of the original Settlement—The road leading south from here was the division line between the "Inlands" of private ownership on the East, and the "Outlands" of common ownership on the West, Seventeenth Century.

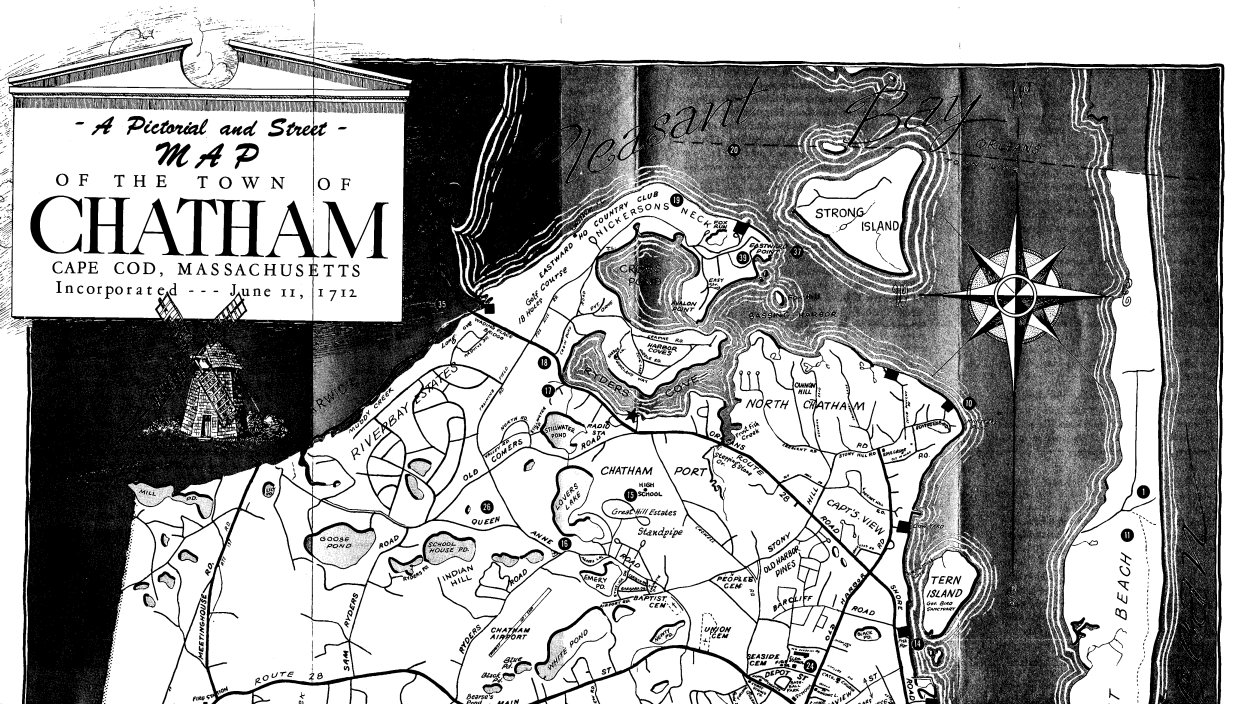

16 Old Burying Ground—last burial place of the Indians, and first burial place of the Whites.

17 Farm of William Nickerson, the first settler in Chatham, (1656).

18 Old Ship Yard—Here were built fishing and trading vessels as late as 1850.

19 Pleasant Bay—known as "Sticiffe's Inlet" prior to 1619. (Said to be rendezvous of early New England pirates.)

PRESS Approved For Release 2001/11/09 : CIA-RDP80B01554R003600190005

All sessions will be "off the record" and no announcements concerning those who attend or the content of the meeting are to be released to the press. The sole reason for this is to create an atmosphere in which participants may speak with candor. The purpose of these meetings is to exchange ideas, not to formulate action programs or proclamations. As a result of the above, we will not admit any members of the working press.

THE CONFERENCE BOARD

CONFERENCE CHARGES

At the conclusion of the conference the Board will send each participant an invoice for $350.00 as his share of the expenses. There will also be a small charge made to those accompanied by their wives. The bill for accommodations will be sent directly to your office by the Inn. Further, in order to cover administrative costs and commitments for rooms in connection with this conference, there will be a charge of $50.00 to anyone cancelling later than Monday, September 17, 1973. We are sure you realize that due to the limitation in the number of invitees, your acceptance takes a place that cannot be filled at a later date.

Northeast Conference

September 28-29-30, 1973

Chatham Bars Inn
Chatham, Massachusetts

THE CONFERENCE BOARD

845 Third Avenue New York, N. Y. 10022

ACCOMMODATIONS

The Board has reserved rooms at Chatham Bars Inn. Participants will receive room assignments when they arrive at the Inn.

DRESS

The conference will be informal, therefore, sports clothes and business suit will be appropriate. It will not be necessary to bring a dinner jacket.

SCHEDULE

You should note that all conference sessions are limited to participants.

LADIES' ACTIVITIES

Wives may join their husbands for the cocktail parties and dinners. We also expect to have planned activities. While the ladies do not take part in the conference sessions, they are welcome to hear a summary of the discussions presented on SUNDAY morning.

INDIVIDUAL PREPARATION FOR CONFERENCE SESSIONS

Each participant will be called upon to give an eight minute talk on any subject which he feels would be of interest to the group. Topics for discussion might include, among others, the following: (a) Mutual business problems; (b) National and international developments. NOTE: The conference sessions will be conducted on an informal basis with no prepared speeches or papers.

Dear Sir:

We are pleased to learn that you will be with us for our Fourteenth Northeast Conference at Chatham, Massachusetts, on September 28, 29, 30, 1973.

The preliminary list mailed to you on June 29, indicates those who have accepted thus far. We are waiting to hear from several others whose names, as well as yours, will appear on the final list which will be distributed at the Conference. Further details about this meeting are outlined in the enclosed booklet.

As soon as you have decided what your travel plans will be, I would appreciate your advising me when and how you plan to arrive at the Inn. If assistance is needed in this respect, or if we can help you with any details not mentioned, please let me know.

Should you have any questions, please feel free to contact John G. Worssam or myself. We look forward to seeing you at the Fourteenth Northeast Conference.

Cordially yours,

Dear Admiral Turner:

I am following up on Sandy Trowbridge's invitation to you to join us at the conference at Chatham Bars Inn on September 28, 29 and 30. As a member of The Conference Board's sponsoring Northeast Advisory Council, I would like to encourage you to attend. From my own experience, I know you will find the sessions to be stimulating and informative, and I've found the participatory opportunities in the discussions to be most worthwhile. If you are free that weekend, I'm sure you will find that this will be time well spent.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Admiral Turner:

You recently received a letter from Alexander Trowbridge, President of The Conference Board, inviting you to a meeting of New England business leaders September 28-30 at Chatham Bars Inn. I have attended several of these and consider it a unique opportunity to exchange ideas in an informal and relaxed atmosphere. Your presence here would be of distinct value to the conferees and should add a dimension which otherwise might be lacking. I do, of course, have a sympathetic understanding of your personal schedule problems but think that this is well worth a priority.

Kindest regards.

Sincerely

Dear Mr. Trowbridge,

Please forgive my excessive delay in responding to your cordial invitation to join the 14th North East Conference. Your letter left me in a quandary as I had already accepted an out-of-town engagement on that weekend. Having rescheduled this event and I am now free to join the Conference Board on September 28th.

A brief survey of the North East Regional Advisory Council list of members assures me of the quality of discussion. Furthermore, I have heard nothing but favorable comments concerning the lovely accommodations at Chatham Bars Inn. Mrs. Turner and I are looking forward to joining you with great anticipation. Thank you very much for thinking of me. I hope I can add something to that selective group of executives.

Sincerely,

STANSFIELD TURNER

THE CONFERENCE BOARD

June 11, 1973

Vice Admiral Stansfield Turner, U.S.N.
President
Naval War College
Newport, Rhode Island 02840

Dear Sir:

The Members of The Conference Board's Northeast Advisory Council and I extend to you a most cordial invitation to join us as our guest at the 14th Northeast Conference at Chatham Bars Inn, Chatham, Massachusetts, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, September 28-29-30, 1973.

The group will be limited to about fifty leaders in business, industry, government and education, based on the order of acceptance. This meeting affords an opportunity for a candid, off-the-record exchange of views on matters of current importance and mutual interest. Each participant is afforded eight minutes to present any subject he deems important. We take no action, pass no resolutions. There is ample time for rest and relaxation.

To ensure a stimulating and beneficial conference, all participants should plan to take part in the four sessions held on Friday night, Saturday morning and late afternoon, and Sunday morning.

Wives are also cordially invited. While they are not included in the regular session discussions, there will be a special program available for them. We will invite the ladies to hear a summary of the discussion presented on Sunday morning.

This is a personal invitation and in order to preserve the traditional character of these meetings, no substitutions should be made.

I hope you can participate with the Members of the Advisory Council and other invitees at this conference. When you let me know your decision, I will see that you receive details of the conference scheduling and accommodations at the Inn.

Yours sincerely,

A. B. Trowbridge

THE CONFERENCE BOARD

...about this Conference

In 1916 The Conference Board was founded at a beautiful retreat in the Catskills called Yama Farms. This was the site of the early Yama Conferences, at which leading executives met to exchange ideas about their own businesses and about national problems. After the Board was launched, it was decided to continue these informal, off-the-record exchanges of information under the auspices of The Conference Board.

Except for changes in locale, these conferences are still conducted in much the same way as in those early days. The group is seated in a large oval with a chairman to lead the discussion which flows naturally from the thinking of the participants themselves. There are no agendas, no speeches, no formal resolutions — in fact, no action is taken at all. The members' names are placed in one of the famous old "Yama" hats, from which they are subsequently drawn by the chairman or someone near him. When a member's name is drawn, he is given about eight minutes to talk about significant developments in his own business or industry or some aspect of national affairs.

Each participant may raise any subject of general interest to the group. These are usually topics of current importance related to an industry, the nation, or even to international business. Some of the interesting topics which have been discussed in recent years are: the businessman in politics, developments in labor-management relations, balance of payments and export trade, economic education in the schools, the general business outlook, and so forth. Whenever a subject of this nature stimulates discussion, the chairman will encourage it for whatever length of time seems reasonable before moving on. At the close of the conference, a "summarizer" reviews highlights of the meeting so that each member may take home specific impressions of the many-faceted discussions.

Participants are limited to chief executive officers in most cases, and discussions are frank, pertinent, and thought-provoking. Their informal nature and the fact that no one may be quoted by name outside the meeting encourage a confidential exchange of ideas and experiences. The high-level character of these meetings has been maintained through the years, as attendance is only by personal invitation.

The schedule has been arranged carefully so as to accommodate the busy executive's calendar as closely as possible. The first session is held after dinner on the first evening, with the second session the following morning. Then, in order to provide relaxation away from the discussions, the afternoon is left open for recreation. The third session is in the evening, followed by the closing the next morning, allowing participants to arrive home late the second afternoon.

Traditionally, the costs to conduct these conferences have been shared by the conferees. The average cost has now been fixed at $350.00, plus the individual hotel bill. The Board will make all necessary arrangements and an invoice will be sent to each participant at the conclusion of the conference. The bill for accommodations will be sent directly from the hotel.

In keeping with the tradition of the original conferences at Yama Farms, the Board selects a meeting place that provides a congenial, informal, relaxed atmosphere. In this way it is believed that the greatest benefit can be derived from these discussions of business, national, and international problems.
